

Sgt. Croutch Well Known Police Officer

A large funeral service was held at Richmond Hill on Tuesday for a well known York County policeman who was born at Queensville. He was Sergeant Anthony Croutch, 59, who died suddenly at Thornhill last Sunday. Interment was at Queensville cemetery.

He had lived at Thornhill the past 17 years. He joined the county force in 1937 and was first stationed at North Gwillimbury township. He was promoted to sergeant in 1951 and was put in charge of constables on duty in the York county magistrate's courts.

Before joining the county force, he was for nine years on the North Gwillimbury police force. In that capacity he worked in co-operation with RCMP on several raids on Holland Marsh moonshiners.

Besides his wife, he is survived by four sons, Glen and Ronald, North Bay; Thomas, Toronto; and Lawrence, Thornhill; and five daughters, Mrs. George Ross and Mrs. H. S. Crate, Newtonbrook; Mrs. W. S. Swindle, Langstaff; and Coral and Margaret at home.

DOG LOVERS SHOULD BE CONSIDERATE OF GARDEN LOVERS

The Newmarket police department points out that dogs are not permitted to run at large in Newmarket any time during the year, according to a town by-law.

While persons are planting gardens at this time of year and putting their lawns in shape, damage from dogs running through their properties is of greater concern to them. Chief Constable Byron Burbridge says that "there are a great many dog lovers in Newmarket but there are also a great many garden lovers. At this time of year, the dog lovers are asked to be more considerate of the garden lovers."

LIONS MINSTRELS ARE HERE AGAIN, ANTICS BEST YET

The fourth annual Lions Minstrel show opened on Tuesday night in the town hall for a four night run. The show features the use of a sound film to aid the plot. The curtain opens with the end men, and the minstrels supposedly tune in on a T.V. set seen by the audience. On the screen, the end men are seen to enter Newmarket switching yards on a freight train, pile out of a box car and board a bus. They arrive at the town hall late and the sound of their scampering up the back stage stairs coincides with "live" clatterings backstage and the end men enter on stage "in the flesh" and out of breath. Film production is by J. H. Luesby, sound by B. A. Budd. Above are three Can-Can dancers, Bert Budd, Johnny Hines and Victor Giovannelli. Below, Jack Luesby is amazed at the appetite of pig Renfrew, an important member of the cast. Era and Express photos

DANCE RECITAL IN TOWN HALL

A total of 86 girls, ranging in age from 5 to 15 and all from Newmarket, will be presented in a dance recital at the Newmarket town hall on Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10. Mrs. Chas. Gordon, their teacher, will direct the recital.

The girls have been meeting regularly throughout the season for dancing classes under the sponsorship of the Newmarket Recreation Commission. Last year, their recital was a great success and this year promises to be even better. There are about 16 items on the program which includes a physical fitness demonstration, ballet and tap dancing.

The recital will be presented as a floor show so that only 250 tickets are available for each night. Tickets have been distributed among the pupils and those interested in obtaining them are requested to contact any of the girls in the class.

NOT "RED" FLAGS

A highly observant citizen rushed into the Era and Express office yesterday and said, "Tomorrow's May the first and they've got red flags all up and down Main St. Where are the police? Why aren't they doing something about it?"

Today, May 1, communists the world over celebrate May Day as an observance to the Russian May day revolution. Although the citizen stormed and raved and was red in the face, we knew his sense of humor well enough to let him continue. The dozens of red flags along Main St. were so placed to prevent automobiles from crossing freshly painted markings for parking areas.

The red flags were taken away before nightfall.

Sheridan, the father of three children, was struck by a light truck on the highway as he was walking home from Aurora on March 29.

Whitchurch Supports Action For 15 M.P.H. Zones At Schools

At the regular meeting of Whitchurch township council on Thursday evening, the board by resolution lined up behind the Home and School Association of Gormley in a request to the deputy minister of highways for a 15-mile-an-hour speed zone in all school zones in the province. The original resolution came from Islington.

"I think we should definitely get behind this resolution. The slaughter of children is getting to be terrific," stated Councillor McCarron.

A request for aid from the Canadian Institute for the Blind brought on a discussion on the Whitchurch policy of making grants.

"I think we should keep our grants to fairs and plowing matches to a minimum. The Institute possibly save this township considerable money, and it's humane work we should possibly help the Salvation Army too," declared Councillor McCarron.

Council Roused Over Restaurant Conditions, Checks On Health Unit

There was disagreement about whether sanitary conditions in restaurants are the most concern of a public health program when town council questioned Dr. R. M. King, director of the York County Health Unit about conditions in a Newmarket restaurant. Council requested "strict inspection" of restaurants and Dr. King assured council members, "that's what you are getting".

Dr. King was asked to the meeting to explain conditions in a restaurant which ceased to operate some months ago. Councilors thought the conditions were disgraceful while the place was operating.

"I am amazed that you should have me here at all since the place was closed some months ago," said Dr. King. He said that although he was not adverse to discussing the matter with council, he thought that it should have been brought up through the health unit board on which council has a representative.

"It's not that we are putting you up on the carpet but we want regular and strict inspection of our restaurants," said Mayor Vale.

"You are getting regular inspection of restaurants and you will continue to have them," Dr. King said. He said that it was coincidental that the operators closed the restaurant and went out of business. He said that the health unit would have closed it if it had not gone out of business.

Deputy-revee J. L. Spillette said council wanted to know why "filthy conditions" were allowed to go on so long and how often restaurant inspections were being made. "What's more important than the food we eat?" he asked.

Dr. King said that there were more important aspects of public health about which the unit was concerned in the first few months of the operation of the unit. Communicable disease is one thing we are more concerned with in the first place, he said. Although there has always been inspection of restaurants, a regular routine had not been set up by the unit during the first months of the formation of a public health program, according to the director.

"But routine restaurant inspections have been made for some time and you will continue to get routine inspections," he said.

One of the health unit's sanitary inspectors, Mr. Craig, who attended the meeting, said that the best policy is to take a long range point of view "with a program of education and an effort to win co-operation of the owners. We try to make the restaurant operators feel they want to keep their places clean on their own initiative," he said.

Mr. Craig has been in public health work for 15 years, and was concerned with restaurant conditions. He said that the unit is concerned with proper equipment and operation of restaurants. Swabs are taken from utensils and equipment and tests are made to determine the quantity of bacteria left on them.

He said it has been found, in many cases, that if proprietors are put in fear of routine inspections "they will just fix up their places for the inspector's visit and let it go other times."

Children Playing Near 20-Ft. Sewage Trench, Council Takes Action

Concerned over the perils of children playing around a 20 ft. deep sewage trench at the corner of Helmer St. and Avenue Road, town council took action Monday night and requested the owner to have it filled in immediately.

"A boy was drowned in a water filled excavation in Newmarket last year," said Mayor Vale. "There has been one tragedy in connection with this sort of thing and I think we should consider what methods of protection should be taken in such cases."

The mayor requested K. M. R. Sliver, the town solicitor, to seek out what legislation is designed to prevent such conditions on private property, whether it is in the building by-law or in provincial legislation.

"The trench was dug in a new subdivision near Eagle and Lyne Ave., with high banks on either side and has been left open for some time. From the top of the banks, Donna Bosworth, town engineer, estimated the depth to be 20 feet. Children had been sliding into it and one resident had to pull a child from the trench on one occasion. Although water has dried up in the trench, there could be danger from cave-ins."

He was treated for cuts to the head at the scene of the accident and then removed to York County hospital where he died shortly after. Dr. Crawford Rose said that there would be an autopsy.

Mr. Bak has been employed by the T. Sisman Co., Aurora, since 1950, and had earlier been employed in the town works department for five years. A native of Denmark, he is survived by his widow, a daughter, Edith, and son, Robert.

QUESTION FOR ADULTS

Can Your Children Brag Of Parents?

"Can your child brag about his father or mother?" That was a question asked by Miss Eva Walker in a talk on promoting better citizenship in our schools and in our growing generation. "More power to the family that keeps a child's self respect high even if it's only his second cousin, Emily, who won a music prize. He can be proud that it was his second cousin, not the boy next door," she said.

Miss Walker addressed a meeting of the Newmarket Home and School association. She was introduced to the meeting by Miss Eva Barnes. "Miss Walker is past president of Toronto Special Education association, a member of the International Council for Exceptional Children, a member of the Board of Governors of Ontario Teachers Federation and Treasurer of the federation of Women Teachers association of Ontario as well as convener of F.W.T.A.O. committee on citizenship. Miss Walker teaches a health class in Toronto.

She defined citizenship as the wise use of the privileges of democratic living that have been handed on to us by our forefathers plus the obligation we have of contributing something ourselves. Citizenship brings responsibilities with its privileges and our children must learn that.

"I don't believe children have changed, but I do believe that environment has changed. Conditions of the world have altered circumstances so that children react differently. We must remember that three generations have lived under the horrid shadow of wars. There is the idea that there might be a sudden attack on our country and that state of anxiety is known to the children.

"When we realize that one-half of the world is under Communist domination; that the prestige of Great Britain has fallen greatly since Victorian days; that many homes have disintegrated and that inadequate housing faces many of our families we should expect children's behaviour to be different. But, essentially they are not different. "We can't have calm, normal children from broken homes. If parents must quarrel, they must not do it to the knowledge of the child. At least in the hearing and sight of the child, they should agree.

"There are many other stresses on our children today. We allow people to exploit our children. The movies and the comics exploit them and television is going to do it to an even greater extent. The youngster rushes out to the kitchen, 'Oh, Mom, I must have Beansies or Deanie's,' or whatever other product is being advertised on the radio for the juvenile listeners. There is subtle pressure on children at all times. They have dancing, skating, societies, choir, clubs. When I was a child we belonged to one club. "There is a great disrespect for authority to be found in our youth today. They are growing up with a sense of futility. "What's the use of putting a lot into a university career if an atom bomb is going to come down on you," they say. "If that's to happen, I might just as well have my fun now."

"There is commercialization of the holy days of Christmas and Easter and a day of sentiment such as Mother's Day. They have been robbed of their true meaning to many children.

"Are we allowing an age of mediocrity to develop? Have we lost our old pioneer traditions of hard work. We have state care in many forms and state care that's steadily growing. It can rob us of our independence. Our ancestors had no grain fields unless they cleared out the stumps. They didn't have a house unless they built it themselves.

"There is a great need for developing good citizenship today. We in the schools can not instill the program. It must start in the home. All the time a child is growing up his parents must show him democracy in practice. How can you expect him to be obedient to the law if you aren't? How can you expect him to be obedient if you don't make him obedient to you?

"The home must start the training. In the family, a child learns how to behave for the family is a small community. Does Johnny see father courteous to mother? Or, is he too busy and abrupt with mother? The boy will be the same as soon as he dares. The father must teach the boys to be polite and courteous to women. How can we expect boys to give up their seats on streetcars when in daily living at home they are not taught to be considerate of older people or women?

"Sharing can be taught in the home. It's a good idea for Tom to give up something so mother or dad can have a treat. Family loyalty cannot be over stressed. Cheerfulness is something some families need to cultivate but all require. Thrift, obedience, honesty... all these elemental principles of good citizenship must be learned in the home. The child must learn acceptance of people not of the same faith or color or race. World citizenship begins in the family circle.

"It is not sufficient that parents provide adequate care, nutrition and sleep for their children. Parents must try to eliminate fear and worry. We never know what's preying on a child's mind and so in conversations and in the general atmosphere, we must keep that in mind.

"The safest kind of citizenry is one that's Christian. The home must make the affiliation with the church first for each child needs something to which he can cling. It is not a case of just sending your child to church, but taking him.

"When the school receives the child at about five or six it will try to teach industry, self control, obedience which was started in the home, courtesy, fair play and unselfishness. It will try to teach a child to accept his failures and his successes and to respect authority, the laws of the nation and Canadian traditions. It will attempt to expand his horizons, to develop good judgment and a taste for good literature, music and arts, but its success will depend greatly on the foundations which have been laid at home.

MUSIC SUPERVISORS HEAR DR. FENWICK

At a luncheon meeting in the King George hotel, Newmarket, on April 21, arranged by Inspector MacKillop, the public school music supervisors of York County enjoyed an informal discussion of their problems with Dr. G. Roy Fenwick, director of music for Ontario. Following the luncheon, Dr. Fenwick and Mr. MacKillop visited King George school with Herman Fowler, music supervisor for Newmarket public and high schools. Mr. Lothian's and Miss Sprague's classes sang for the visitors, and Dr. Fenwick expressed his pleasure with their work. The children enjoyed meeting him, having listened to him many times on the music appreciation broadcasts.

rungs in the ladder; the means by which blind people achieve their ends.

Then there was the young stenographer, who suddenly lost her sight, and with it, all hope of ever working again. C.N.I.B. gave her special lessons, taught her to do her typing by touch and today she is busily employed in the stenographic pool at C. N. I. B. head office. The dictaphone is a substitute for shorthand, and the new blind steno is busy and happy.

Another interesting person is a man setting up machines in a large factory, who lost his sight through glaucoma. Still needed for his special job, his firm approached C.N.I.B. employment. Blind placement officers gave him lessons in working by touch, and taught him how to go around without sight. They built guards around the machines and special devices for use by touch. Today he is over 70 but still on the job. Any number of blind Canadians are successful today because of C. N. I. B. constructive service. After our smelt fishing expedition, during which we actually caught some smelts, it was a jolt to open a letter from Largo, in Florida, where Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Mathews, and daughter Kathleen, Miss Beatrice Lyons and Miss Heisz, all of Newmarket, caught 31 kingfish, two mackerel and a black grouper in an day of trolling.

And today, of course, is the opening of the trout season with the department of land and forests estimating more than 150,000 fishermen out. The wardens began patrolling the streams last week.

The Men of the Trees are planning a tree planting day on Saturday over in Albion township. Details can be had from Fred Ewens, chairman, at 54 Lascelles Blvd., Toronto 12. The Men of the Trees is an organization devoted to the preservation of a proper balance between forested and non-forested areas. Besides their annual reforestation parties, they spend considerable time and effort in educational work.

Their tree-planting party in Albion comes when the papers are full of flood stories from the United States. Those floods are largely attributable to the manner in which the central area of the country was denuded of its trees and other water holding cover.

Saw a letter in the Globe and Mail in which the writer quotes the old saw: "When the Pilgrim Fathers landed, they fell upon their knees... then upon the Indians... then upon the trees." The same letter observes that before the end of the 17th century, the rivers were flooding and loaded with brown silt because of the tree cutting.

The provincial department of lands and forests is spending ten times the funds they spent ten years ago in reforestation. Wonder if it will be too late to ever repair the damage done.

Balfie Bradley was in last week to announce that the Newmarket Art Club was active again with extensive plans for a busy season and show. The club was organized a few years ago, had two successful seasons and several shows. Then it seemed to lapse. But it is back again and if only half of their plans materialize, they will contribute considerably to Newmarket's cultural life.

Among other things, they intend to open their membership to those who wish to learn to paint or sketch. We are turning over to them the names of those who in the Night Classes Questionnaire, said they would like to learn painting or about art generally.

It's a healthy sign that there are enough individuals in a community interested in such activities to organize a fair-sized association. Newmarket has a good deal of such activity in its drama club, choir work and band. The laboring for "bread alone" is a dulling process and spirit can never be over-nourished. The sense of creating to us is the happiest product of such activity.

Speaking of Night Classes, the carpenters up at Pickering College, under the direction of Rudy Renzius, have closed down for the summer months with the members taking away a variety of finished work. Best proof of their satisfaction was the decision to prepare now to resume the classes next fall.

We were admiring the many signs of spring over the weekend but were distressed by that painfully familiar canopy which is nourishing hosts of the tent caterpillar in our apple trees. It's a miserable pest—ugly to look at and damaging to trees. We thought we were done with the insect but it looks as if it is back in even greater numbers. We don't know how practical our methods of extermination are but they do give a good deal of personal satisfaction. We've been burning off the bugs with a torch. Such a scourge, it seems to us, is most appropriate.

The flour from several Ontario mills was tested in competition by a large export firm in Toronto during the past few weeks and the flour manufactured by Beaver Mills, Newmarket, has been selected as the best for their trade. This speaks well for Mr. F. H. Robinson and assures him of an increased sale.

Mr. W. H. Bassett, our local tailor, who fell from his bicycle one evening last week when returning to work, is around again as usual. He was crossing the C.N.R. track at Timothy street when something jerked the wheel and threw him off. He was taken to Dr. Boyd's office, where he remained unconscious for several hours on account of injuries to his head.

THURSDAY, THE FIRST DAY OF MAY, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-TWO

SEND TEN CENTS...

We have wrapped a dime securely in cardboard, as instructed, and enclosed it in an envelope addressed to Tropical Round Robin Associates, Guayaquil, Ecuador, South America. The result of this activity, we trust, will be a packet of Passion Flower seeds. The dime is to cover mailing and handling charges, after the time-worn formula.

Editors are used to receiving a variety of proposals through their daily mail and usually manage to cultivate a scornful appraisal of them. This particular offer, however, rather appeals to us and a dime isn't too much a gamble.

The Tropical Round Robin Associates are described as modern Johnny Appleseed men. It's a happy thought. Johnny Appleseed is a legendary figure of early American history, who used to walk the hills of New England scattering apple seed. Passion flowers, so named because of its symbolistic markings (the corona representing Christ's crown of thorns, the stamen and pistil the nails of the cross, the five sepals and five petals the ten faithful apostles), seem infinitely more exotic than apple trees despite the latter's economic advantages.

Will they grow in this northern climate? We don't know but with the instructions, included with every packet of seed, we hope to find out.

WHERE RESPONSIBILITY LIES

Mr. C. G. Wainman, in his capacity of chairman of the committee in charge of Lions Park, was telling us the other day of the damage caused by thoughtless children on their way home from school to the valuable trees and shrubs in the park. His complaint was a good example of the situation warned against in an address by Miss Eva Walker to the Newmarket Home and School Association.

One hears a good deal of complaints about the younger generation these days. They are not mannered, ignorant of fundamentals, looking for the easy way, and despite the money poured into improvement of the school system, not as well educated. While some or all of this may be true, what would you expect, asks Miss Walker. "I don't believe children have changed but I do believe that their environment has changed." She cites the shadow of war which has lain over us these last 40 years as one major influence.

But the bulk of her criticism is directed at the parents. "We allow people to exploit our children," she charged, with reference to radio and television programs, the commercialization of Christmas and Easter. It lies within the power of parents to combat such trends.

She maintained too that the parents are responsible for instilling in children the fundamentals of good citizenship. "We in the schools cannot instigate the program; it must start in the homes." Are parents leaving too much for the schools? Are they simply unaware of the extent of changing times and ignoring the need for counter-action? We wonder too if the same changes which are affecting our children now affected the parents when they were children; if the faults we find today are but the chain reaction of faults of an earlier age?

But there has been too much speculation on cause, not enough concern with righting the effect. Miss Walker can explain and prescribe; it's the parent who must act. There has been a good deal of criticism of our school system, much of it just. There has been criticism of the churches. There has been criticism of all social agencies, for that matter, because they are not turning out the product we desire. But no agency can take the place of the family. There is our weakness.

"Are we allowing an age of mediocrity to develop?" asks Miss Walker. The answer is yes unless there is a return to the virtues, not of the parents' youth, but of the grand-parents'.

MINORITY OPINION

We like reading 'The Rural Scene' and frequently quote from it in these columns. It's not a popular journal by any means but its acid reminders of certain elementary facts of life are necessary if one is to retain any sort of balance in these days of distorted values. Here's a sampling from its current issue: After listing the ten demands upon government included in a recent farm brief, all which require the government to assist, subsidize, regulate, or restrict, 'The Rural Scene' comments: "Putting all these requests together, one is forced to the conclusion that the farmers are not willing to face the problems and run the risks inherent in their industry; and are asking the government to relieve them of these responsibilities. This would leave the farmer with nothing to do but the manual labor of producing and harvesting his crops. He would cease to be the manager of his business and would become a hired man on his own farm — if he could still call it his own."

Or "The attempt of the United Church to promote the cause of temperance by asking its members to pledge themselves never to touch, taste, or handle intoxicating liquor looks like a confession of loss of faith in the power of the gospel and one more attempt to substitute external pressure for internal conviction in matters of human conduct... Asking people to pledge themselves to any given line of conduct is nothing less than asking them to sign away their right to govern their own conduct."

Or "As Martha says: If the government will protect her right to work for any one who will employ her, to pick her own husband, train her own children, support her own church, and spend her own money, she will not ask it provide her social security."

The Rural Scene is published by John Atkins and edited by E. J. Young. It comes out twice a month and its offices are in Midland. We recommend it to the farmer, indeed, to all readers who would like to spice their debates with a bit of minority reasoning.

NOT SO ROSY AFTER ALL

We shared in the general enthusiasm which has followed the rise of the Canadian dollar to its present level of 1.02 in U.S. currency. But now we must admit that there is a catch in all this. Our renovated dollar is becoming an expensive luxury. It has meant that large exporters have suffered a corresponding reduction in their returns from trade with the United States.

The farmers learned this bitter truth in sales on a fixed price contract. Pulp and paper operators call it a "serious matter"; the Powell River Co. Ltd. figures it cost the firm $1.5 millions last year. It has mixed advantages in other lines. U.S. textiles and canned goods are cheaper to the consumer but the Canadian textile trade has suffered with many firms laying off men.

One possible loss still ahead of us in the $270 million tourist business. The devalued Canadian dollar was a major inducement to visitors from the south. But will they be encouraged to travel this direction when it's their money which will be de-valued?

DANGEROUS TREND

We remarked last week on the census figures which showed 60 percent of the population to be city workers and only 40 percent on the land, a reversal of the situation 50 years ago. The Financial Post doesn't like the situation either. It remarks:

"Because of industrial and scientific advances, agricultural production in Canada has continued to increase notwithstanding the steady decrease in the number of people engaged. But we can hardly hope for that sort of fortune continuing indefinitely. To maintain farm output at anything around present levels we will always require a substantial number of people on farms, and a higher minimum incidentally, than in most other Canadian industries, because in agriculture we are working largely with growing and changing things which means much personal supervision.

"Even if we could produce enough with only a fraction of our population on the land there would be grave disadvantages. It is not a good thing for any nation to have all its people packed into cities and certainly not safe in these uncertain times.

"It will pay us to watch carefully the movement of population from the country. Some of it is natural and inevitable. Some of it may be actually beneficial. But we would be short-sighted if we pretended that it did not matter, that it could go on indefinitely without supping our national strength."

This week's column is especially written for Aurora, inaugurating a new service to Aurora readers. From now on, this column will serve Aurora readers too. It is officially open to readers in Aurora and outside district readers are now free to read it also. Everyone is now permitted to read Cat Nips.

It is just part and parcel of the Era and Express policy. Several letters of congratulation have been sent to us regarding this new venture.

The major writer the following: "Congratulations, Ginger, on your new policy of opening your columns to all readers on such a wide scale. It shows the open-mindedness and enterprising spirit of one of our most important contemporary writers."

Shirley Higgins: "He is all grateful that such words of wisdom are falling all round the planet especially here in Aurora. President of the Aurora Club of the first expansion of the Gingerbread newspaper, has been writing letters and comments in offering all kinds of congratulations."

At that time the newspaper would have been a word of appreciation, amounting to $100,000 for the offer of 50 cents a month for the publication rights of Cat Nips. It is a pretty big sum for a word of appreciation, amounting to $100,000 for the offer of 50 cents a month for the publication rights of Cat Nips.

I must point out, however, that there are certain advantages at my present position which include the use of a typewriter, bank card and free scrap paper from the printing department. Of course, don't let it be construed that this correspondent is hinting around for better offers.

If you have not heard a program on the radio called "Inside Bob and Ray", you should listen to it. I don't know what station it's on but you'll find it on any American one that's hooked up with N.B.C.

They used to be on Saturday nights but they're not any more. They're on Friday nights. They start their program at 8:30, a quarter to nine, I think. Bob and Ray have been recently offering a "plan" to advertisers at large who are urged to write to them.

The Bob and Ray "plan", which they themselves devised, involves the plan that to save the whole house of daylight in a day.

"Hello, Bob and Ray," and get your carefully planned plan. This plan is also, I'm sure, guaranteed to save you some of the daylight of day."

They have a very simple plan. They ask you to write a letter to them, telling them how you would like to see a greater amount of daylight in a day. They will then, in a great big letter, tell you how to get a greater amount of daylight in a day. They will then, in a great big letter, tell you how to get a greater amount of daylight in a day.

As an example of the plan, they have a letter from a man who writes: "I would like to see a greater amount of daylight in a day. I would like to see a greater amount of daylight in a day. I would like to see a greater amount of daylight in a day."

They will then, in a great big letter, tell you how to get a greater amount of daylight in a day. They will then, in a great big letter, tell you how to get a greater amount of daylight in a day. They will then, in a great big letter, tell you how to get a greater amount of daylight in a day.

They will then, in a great big letter, tell you how to get a greater amount of daylight in a day. They will then, in a great big letter, tell you how to get a greater amount of daylight in a day. They will then, in a great big letter, tell you how to get a greater amount of daylight in a day.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

Some years ago, a man whose judgment we respect greatly, told us what he considered was the basic law of agricultural economics and prices. It was his contention that when prices in general are on the upswing, the prices of farm products are slowly going up but behind all other prices. However, when there is a general decline in prices, the farmer's products go down fast and well ahead of other commodities.

We are very much afraid that the man was right, and we are even more afraid that milk is giving a prize example of this theory.

One doesn't have to be a brain truster to realize that there is a general downward trend of prices. Even the old cost of living index is easing off. We, as farmers, can see that farm prices are leading the parade. Beef, pork, poultry products are all on the down-grade. Special sections of these products are really off.

Milk is a different story. Its price is set by negotiations for certain length of time. Last year, negotiations started in the spring. Through politics, milk board, court actions, bitterness and all the rest of it, the milk producer finally got an increase in price on Dec. 15. Today, a scant four months later, the pressure is on and some people would like to see the price paid to the producer down again.

There are hard facts involved in this and also some very important principles. We, as milk producers, should take a good look at the situation and then make up our minds and stick with our decision. First, let us talk about this so-called surplus of milk. We don't think there is a surplus. We think that this word is used at the present as a bogey to stampede us into submission. We don't think that there is a surplus over and above what we would normally expect this time of the year.

Some factors which might contribute to this surplus talk are the lack of export for dairy cattle but this is just a drop in the bucket. Another is that some dairy farmers are probably holding milk cows off the market because of the drop in price for slaughter cattle.

The fact is that there is less milk sold because the dairies are losing customers to substitute products and in spite of the growth of our consuming public numerically, they are not selling more milk. We are not selling more milk. We are not selling more milk. We are not selling more milk.

Personally, we resent this. We think that if the distributors buckled down to do a better job of selling, they could sell more milk. We also think that the producer and his organization may have to share some of the responsibility for this advertising.

Secondly, and this fact is more serious, there is a widening gap between the set price on our fluid milk market and the market for milk produced for cheese, etc. This will put a real high pressure on us. But is this a reason to become frightened and give in? It is our opinion that 12 farms out of 20 producing milk on seasonal basis for cheese market wouldn't stand inspection for fluid market. It is just another way of saying that we produce a very high grade product, with more cost and more investment. Consequently, we have to have the higher price and we are entitled to it.

Finally, for the first time in years, there is some chance to get a fairer return for our product. Let us not be scared now, and back up. After all, feed, fertilizer, labor and machinery haven't come down in price yet and don't show any signs of wanting to do so.

In closing, we have just one suggestion. If the government is willing to agree to the formula setting of milk prices, we should agree to open new negotiations. We believe that this is really the fairest way of determining the price of milk. On the formula basis we could rest satisfied that any fluctuation in prices would be the result of production cost changes. We also believe that a fluctuating price would be smart public relations and good advertising. It would create confidence in the producer and distributor alike.

Needlecraft News

ACCESSORIES ARE THE seasoning of your outfit. However, you will find that they are most effective when used with restraint. In this season of fashion the use of accessories is imperative if you strive for the finished, perfect down-to-the-last-detail look. Do you remember the time when you thought all that was needed to complete a suit was a blouse, hat, gloves and bag? Those days are gone—and happily for us, too. The accessory field includes a variety of items. Creative use of them will enable you to change the look of your outfit in many ways and you'll find that your wardrobe seems much more extensive.

Quilted Fabrics

One of fashion's fancies this year is the "quilted" look and garments and accessories made from quilted materials are becoming increasingly popular. Stunning dresses, jackets, skirts and hats are being made from quilted silks and cottons. The vogue for stand-out skirts is a natural for the quilted fabrics and when they are made in a rich plain color or a pretty print, can be worn as one of your very best outfits. Gay crazy-quilt cottons are being shown for sports wear and should be a popular and practical summer item. Quilted fabrics are seen in the nursery, on the school girl and on the chic lady-of-fashion—in fact, quilted materials are found everywhere this season.

Youthful Quilted Cap

Would you like a fresh, becoming hat this spring at a minimum of expense? Then why not make one yourself. Quilted plaid taffeta is effective for a youthful, snug cap and easy to make from only two pattern pieces. Directions are included so that you can do your own quilting which gives you a larger assortment of fabric designs from which to choose. If you would like to have directions for making the QUILTED CAP, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and ask for Leaflet No. E-118.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

New leaves seem to burst forth on the lilac bushes as you watch them these days. The air is warm and sweet with the scent of spring. It is good to be in the garden again.

Tiny curls of lime green tip the birches and in established gardens, the soft pinks, blues and mauves of fragrant hyacinths make the memories of raw, cold March almost forgotten. Of course, it is not necessary to go back to that month for nasty weather. Easter weekend left a lot to be desired.

Here and there the early tulips in their brilliant red gowns fulfill the promises made by the tiny snowdrops and crocuses that the growing season is at hand. The time for studying nursery catalogues is past. Now to the task of preparing the ground for those shrubs and rose bushes.

Before long the pungent odors of fertilizer overpower any dainty floral fragrances. But, the gardener anxious to provide a balanced soil accepts such temporary hardships with the same philosophical air that he views the newly raised crop of blisters on his winter-softened palms and the aching muscles of back and limbs. His eyes are fastened on the distant goal . . . his perfect garden.

Whether he is a flower fancier or a practical market gardener, those of the green thumb society share the trait of complete stoicism for the sake of their hobby. That same indifference to physical weariness is completely lacking in the make-up of the person who gardens with the "well, I can't leave the place in weeds" attitude.

The true gardener really enjoys digging that 12 to 15 inch deep trench for his sweet peas. He delights in working in the products from his compost heap to add needed humus to the soil. Whether he is envisioning a vast assortment of flowers producing a continual display of bloom and color throughout the coming months or thinking in terms of large, luscious strawberries or tender green peas he performs all of the necessary tasks with an air of dedication.

It is interesting to note the never ending battle which is waged between the two groups. There are those who plant vegetables, because after all they too must eat, but their every thought is spent in perfecting the conditions for their beloved iris, peony or gladioli. Then, on the other hand, there is the group who want their property to look attractive and neat, a suitable background for their home.

When they have performed the minimum required to keep their perennial borders, shrubberies and lawns in shape they depart to the important part of the garden. They can almost taste those ripe raspberries smothered in cream or the white flakiness of the new potatoes cooked in their jackets and served with slim, young carrots and creamed asparagus . . . "Now, that's gardening," they say and back to the hoeing without a word of complaint.

Of course, the rhubarb from the garden did taste good yesterday and those bottles of canned produce which throughout the winter supplemented the fresh fruits and vegetables from the grocery stores were welcome additions. But, is there anything more lovely than a forsythia in its bright yellow salute to spring, or the lilac bushes resplendent in their pale mauve, deep purple or white bloom? Or again, later in the season, when the peonies burst forth in their combined beauty of color and scent? Yes, as we enjoy those tasty fruits and vegetables we shall nurture the mountain ash, the purple leaf plum and the flowering crab apple whips which we hopefully will plant this spring.

C.G.I.T. Rally In Mt. Albert

A successful C.G.I.T. rally was held in Mount Albert United Church on Saturday, April 26, with representatives from Schomberg, Aurora, Sharon, Queensville and Mount Albert.

It had been hoped Newmarket, Keswick, Sutton and Stouffville would have been represented also.

Registration of the 64 girls present at 9.30 a.m. was followed by a few words of welcome by Mrs. Bruce Holting on behalf of the Mount Albert group.

Miss Mona Armstrong led the group in a very enjoyable sing song. Rev. Shapter, minister of Mount Albert United Church, emphasized the need for girls to take an interest in world affairs today. This was followed by a talk on camp council given by Margaret Arkinstall.

Miss Armstrong led the girls in a half hour of folk dancing. Mrs. Perkin, representing the Ontario Girls Work Board, led the girls in discussion of projects and programs completed during the year. Schomberg had rhinestone jewelry on display, Queensville wall plaques, Mount Albert, leathercraft and shell crafts. At the same time, the girls council, made up of the president, vice-president and one girl from both senior and intermediate girls in each group, retired for discussion.

After lunch the Mount Albert group conducted a hike around the village. The afternoon program opened with Miss Armstrong leading a sing song. Camp dates at camp Ahshunyoong were discussed and girls urged to attend. A skit "Moses in the Bulrushes" put on by the Aurora group was much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Perkin led the girls in group games.

A re-affiliation service with the Mount Albert girls re-affiliating with the W.M.S. (Women's Missionary Society) was conducted and affiliation badges presented to those girls who had not received them.

A missionary film "Western Hands are Sure", described the work of Dr. Archer in his mission hospital, the "Lamont Hospital". The girls then filed into the church auditorium where Schomberg group conducted a worship service bringing an end to a very enjoyable day.

An invitation to visit Schomberg another year was accepted so next year's spring rally will be in Schomberg.

Couple Observe 50th Anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. M. K. Dillane, Schomberg, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday. Dr. Dillane, who is over 71 years old, is still in active practice and is one of the most respected personalities in the Schomberg district. The Dillanes were married 50 years ago yesterday.

Dr. Dillane has been practising in Schomberg for the past 52 years. He was born on the family farm, fourth concession of Tecumseh township, near Tottenham, the son of the late Jas. Dillane. He graduated from the University of Toronto in June, 1899, and started his practice in Schomberg the following January.

"When I graduated from medical school, Toronto stretched about as far north as Moor St.," says Dr. Dillane. "Doctors' row was on Simcoe St. in those days," he recalls.

Two years after he settled in Schomberg, he married Miss Annie Catherine Henderson of Ancaster. Mrs. Dillane has been a member of the Canadian Club since 1935. She is an active member of the Women's Auxiliary of Schomberg Anglican church.

Their hobby is growing roses. Their rose garden is famous in the district where many rose teas are held each year in aid of some worthy cause. Last year they held a tea in aid of York County hospital. The doctor's roses have won many flower show prizes.

A friend recalled that in the horse and buggy days, Dr. Dillane would often ride horseback to see his patients rather than drive a buggy or a cutter. I can remember him doing that not more than 25 years ago, said the friend. Before snowplows and good roads, he often had to use snowshoes.

"For the first 14 years of my practice, we never saw an automobile," he said.

Three sons of the Dillanes all served in the armed forces during the last war. They are Leslie, at home, Eric, a physician at Pownassan, and Grant at Guelph. One daughter, Lorna, lives at home.

A brother of Dr. Dillane, Dr. Harvey Dillane, practices in Pownassan with Dr. Eric Dillane. The Dillanes are active members of St. Mary's Magdalene church in Schomberg.

Junior Farmers Elect Executive

David Pelletterio, a 21-year-old Junior Farmer from Milton in Halton County, was the unanimous choice as president of the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario at the annual meeting April 20 to 22, at the Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph. This young man brings to his new post a broad experience in the Junior Farmer movement. He is an expert judge of cattle and grain, an able public speaker, a song leader and singer, and a capable executive.

Assisting him as vice-president will be Don Middleton of Granby in Middlesex County. Don brings to his new post a background of Junior Farmer experience, plus considerable ability as a speaker and debater. He ably demonstrated this ability during the conference when he and his colleague won the provincial Junior Farmer debating final. T. R. Hilliard, of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, continues as secretary-treasurer.

In addition to the officers, three young men and two young ladies complete the executive of the association. They are Don Thompson (Glengarry County), Don Caruthers (Northumberland County), Carl Boynton (York County), Jean Holmes (Perth County), and Della Romagnoli (Lincoln County).

HASHMAN AWARD

Murray For Effort

Aurora town leaguers completed a very successful season last week. League games and playoffs went through with a minimum of protests, beefs and counter-beefs. Reason for this was the very capable manner in which league proxy, Councillor Jimmy Murray, handled his job and full co-operation he received from the team coaches and managers.

Because of his excellent promotion activity, we're naming Jimmy Murray for the Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass this week. Actually president James comes in for commendation on two other counts. Queen's Hotel found themselves without a net-minder for the final game against the Ditch Diggers. Jimmy donned the big pads - did alright too.

The other count on which Mr. Murray can take a bow is for his work with Mickey Sutton in leading the Aurora Tigers, Town League all-stars, into the North York championship series finals against Woodbridge.

Pony League In North Gwill.

Pony league baseball is becoming all the rage below the border and is starting to spring up in Canada. It's baseball designed for boys 14 and under. They use a smaller diamond but outside of that, it's big league in every respect with contracts, trading rights, etc.

Keswick and district is going to give it a whirl this summer. Plans set in motion Monday at a meeting held in the Keswick arena indicate baseball will hit the headlines via a North Gwillimbury school league.

Chairman Gavin Morton explained the workings of a Pony League Monday and his listeners all agreed baseball had a place on the sport scene. League will be open to all schools in North Gwillimbury township. Four schools, Jersey, Keswick, Base Line and Roche's Point, immediately filed entries and the baseballers are sure of a four-team league.

Optimist club will supply a trophy for league winner and the league will be open only to permanent residents.

Coaches and managers of the teams are: Jersey, Pat Morrissey, Ralph Huskinson; Keswick, Grant Thompson, Royden Connell; Base Line, Lorne O'Dell, Jim Sinclair; Roche's Point, Ben Tomlinson, Tom Hare, Jim Porter.

Kleinburg Champs

The curtain dropped on the King-Vaughan Hockey League Friday. Folks out that way are toasting new champions. It's Kleinburg Greenshirts. Friday the Greenshirts nursed a 4-3 lead into the third period, then erupted for five goals in a whirlwind third period to sink the favored Nobleton Golden Boys 9-4. That gave the greensweatered crew the series and championship, three games to one. Don Hilliard, Bob Bell and "Speed" Burbridge pegged two goals each to give the Kleinburgers the needed spark. Walt Bell, Harry Lostehuk and Don Youngberger slipped through the Nobleton defenders for a marker each to complete the "new champs" scoring. Stan Foster was the bright twinkler for Nobleton. Stanley made it very uncomfortable for Greenshirts shot-blocker Al Thorpe as he poked in all four Nobleton tallies. It was a rugged exchange in spots, requiring 12 penalties, including a match sentence to Nobleton's Jack Woods to keep it from getting out of control. The game wrote finish to a successful six months' season.

Kleinburg: D. Hilliard, B. Bell, B. Burbridge, W. Bell, H. Lostehuk, D. Youngberger, W. Roe, L. Ellis, S. Ellis, W. Hite, M. Hilliard, T. Smithson, A. Thorpe. Nobleton: W. Hoover, R. Hoover, S. Foster, D. Keffer, G. Atkinson, J. Woods, T. Dwyer, B. Wallis, L. Murray, A. Cain, N. Ash, J. Gibson.

A-Rambling On The Sports Field

Claude Kewley, that irrepressible Peter Pan of the hockey whirl, writes to say that Keith Kewley, coach of the Ayr Raiders, will be flying home come May 1. It's a holiday trip and a safari for new players. Keith will coach Paisley next year and will reportedly be the highest paid coach in the British Isles. He's looking for talent interested to go overseas and if you'll contact the writer or telephone Keith at 58 Ulster St., Toronto, you'll get your chance.

Bill Mahett and Gordy Lewis, along with Mac Clement and his bride, will be home shortly too. We understand Clement may stay here but the other two will return again. All enjoyed a good season. Allan Truelove of Brighton Tigers, now in his seventh season overseas, is the son of Bill Truelove of Aurora. Al is pretty well sold on life overseas despite austerity. Kewley needs about a dozen players. Deeks are cleared to finally end the O.H.A. season. Stouffville Clippers versus Port Colborne in senior "B", Collingwood opposite Simcoe in the intermediate "A" section, Bracebridge and Elmhurst in the intermediate "B", and Weston Dukes and Waterloo in junior "B". The latter series will probably be the last to finish.

Eddie Young, former Collingwood boy who played in the Camp Burden league with Armored Corps and with Brampton Camp under Bing Caswell, is coaching and playing for the Ports. We think Stouffville have a real chance to cop the crown but it'll be close. Despite Simcoe's success against the Builders, you know Eddie Bush and his gang. Astles, one of the stars of the Simcoe club, played junior hockey for Brantford against Aurora in 1940. We call Weston Dukes and Bracebridge to take the other series. If a winner in some series had come from Eastern Ontario the honors would have been pretty well distributed this year.

The return to intermediate baseball of Newmarket is indeed one of the big pieces of sports news of the spring season. Those behind the plan are to be congratulated and we hope

Mickey Sutton's Aurora Rairy Ditch Diggers, for a second year in a row, captured the Aurora Town League hockey crown. Ditch Diggers led the league and completed their run to the title with a semi-final triumph over Case's Aces and polished off Queen's Hotel 3 games to 1 in the finals. Back row, l. to r. Newmarket Optimists Club recently concluded their busy winter long N.H.L. hockey program with a banquet for all the players who performed under their banner. Lewicki At Minors' Banquet

Newmarket Optimist club brought their N.H.L. hockey season to an official close last week when they played hosts to all the players who performed under their banner during the past winter.

The banquet was attended by close to 100 bantam, midget and midget all-stars and guests. Danny Lewicki, Toronto Maple Leaf winger, was guest speaker and gave the "all-ears" puck chasers a brief outline of a pro hokey players' winter program from training camp to play-offs and also passed out sage advice on keeping fit.

Lewicki took time out from his speaking duties to present his scoring trophies to Geo. Davis and Bill Mair who ended in a deadlock for the N.H.L. scoring crown. Delwyn Creed received Ray Smith's Sports and Cycle Shop trophy as most valuable player; Norm Smart took away the Doug May award as most gentlemanly player; and Jimmy Rich, young Chicago Black Hawks' net-minder, captured the local version of the Vezina trophy. The Broadbent trophy, local edition of the Stanley Cup, was presented to Belf Bradley's Maple Leafs by donor Russell Broadbent. Mr. Broadbent also gave medals to each of the Leafs.

Optimists, directors of the league, gave the winning Leafs and runner-up Rangers crests. Boys' work chairman Don Warner and Optimist President Jack Hamilton thanked all those who had aided the Optimist club in making the season and banquet a success.

Coaches mentioned in the honor list were Belf Bradley, Jack Hamilton, Fred Dillman, Russ. Hughes, Ed. McMullen, Fred Spear, Don Warner, Lowell Waller, Howard Peterman, Cliff Gunn; referees Howard Ash, Stan. Gibbons, Don. Gibson, Laurie Thoms, Geo. Zogato; pianist Jack Peppiatt and head table guests Ray Smith, Geo. Haskett, Lorne Mainprize, Dr. W. C. Arkinstall. Evening closed with two hockey movies.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

There will be drama and there will be thrills in the renewal of the Kentucky Derby this year, because thrills, drama and the Derby go hand-in-hand, a triumvirate of tradition. It may be the thrill of a winning favorite. It may be the drama of a rank outsider roaring down the historic stretch at Churchill Downs, in the Run for the Roses.

But no matter what the thrills, I doubt if any result, any development will equal for sheer throat-catching drama what happened on May 17, 1924, the fiftieth running of the Derby which is not even a Derby. For that was the day when through the Derby crowd there walked to the judges' stand a woman in mourning, amid the wild cheers of the multitude, to receive the token of victory.

That was the day Black Gold won the Derby, and this is the story behind it:

Black Gold was owned by Mrs. R. M. Hoots, widow of an Oklahoma oil man who had gone broke in his search for that very thing for which he named his horse: black gold. Disappointed, discouraged, he failed in health and died.

In the waning days of his life, all Hoots and his family had was the horse—Black Gold. They campaigned it north and south, won some lesser races, termed "Derbies", with the black son of Black Toney, but racing against the brilliant performers who carried the colors of millionaire owners, of famous breeding farms, of the Whitneys and Bradleys and Cochrans and Sinclairs, Black Gold was rated as having a scant chance for the Derby. Not, at least until a few days before when he won the Derby Trial impressively.

The legend is that when Hoots realized his days were numbered, he exacted a promise from his wife that Black Gold should have a chance for high stakes—a chance in the Kentucky Derby, if for no other reason than reward for his honest performances.

So, in 1924, the widow took the horse to Churchill Downs. There was no trumpet to herald his arrival. It was more like an outcast trying to break into high society.

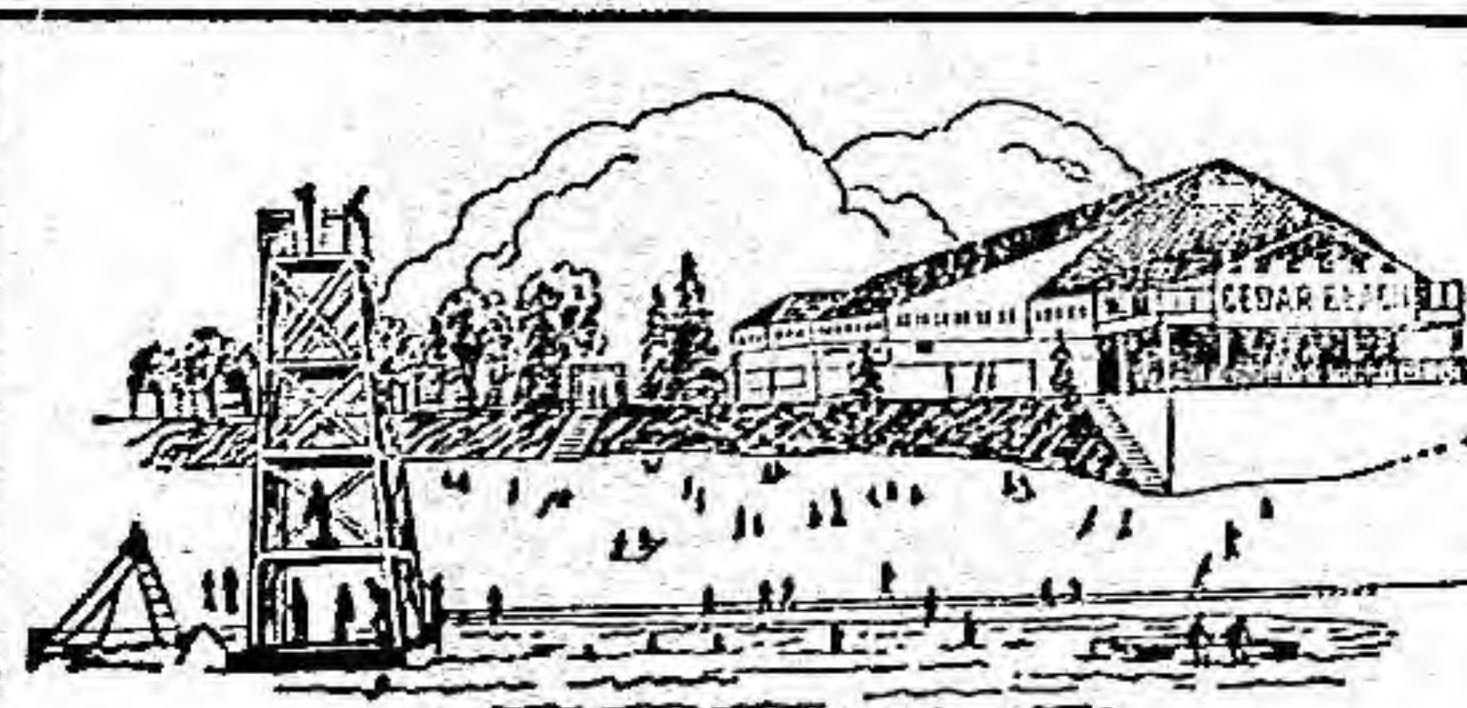

After all, Black Gold was a campaigner from the small tracks—out in the sticks—so they thought, as the field went to the post.

But two minutes later when the field came under the wire, it was Black Gold which showed the way, beating out Chillumee from the rich Gallahue Stable by half a length in a driving finish. And the men of millions had to make way for the widow of an oil man who died broke, when the path was opened to the platform for the presentation of the trophies and the roses, while the band played "My Old Kentucky Home."

Newmarket "Pin-ups", the junior ladies' softball team, plan to get back in the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' softball league this year. Fifteen players attended the initial practice last Friday. Marilyn Lee has been named president of the club; Mrs. Cecelia Forhan was returned as secretary, and Geo. Watt as manager. A coach is expected to be named in the next week.

BICYCLE CLUB
Cliff Chapman has hopes of re-organizing the Aurora Cycling Club. All persons interested in cycling are asked to attend a meeting at Mr. Chapman's residence, 71 George St. Aurora, Tuesday, May 6, at 8 p.m. Cliff is especially interested in hearing from old members of the Club. Everybody welcome.

Total Arena Customers
How many customers did hockey draw this winter at the Memorial Arena? Arena Manager Stan Smith gave out some interesting facts and figures on the subject this week.

Hockey attracted over 30,000 clients. Breakdown shows the Spitfires drew 18,940 supporters or over 1,000 per game for their 12 Big Five group, two play-off sets with Collingwood and four exhibition games.

Newmarket & District hockey-ists with the inclusion of Mount Albert and Vandonor, enjoyed their best season since the league came into being and attracted 4,454 payees. Sutton Greenshirts, in clashes with Alliston, Markham, Bolton and Blythwood, played before 3,771 clients.

Keswick-Thornorton and Bolton-Beeton rural playdowns caught the fancy of another 1,792 customers. Minor hockey, midjet, juvenile, Optimists N.H.L. and North York championship series games boosted the total well over 30,000.

The value of artificial ice and the arena as a recreation center were amply demonstrated when skating figures were totaled. A total of 15,534 skaters drew on their blades over the past winter. Demand for practice hours increased over the previous year. Newmarket Figure Skating Carnival drew 3,165 customers in its two nights run.

Newmarket and New Lowell were accepted as new entrants and league officials forsee a 14-team loop if pending entries from Utopia, Thornorton and R.C. A.F. Camp Borden come through.

All home games will be played at the Fair Grounds with Friday mentioned as the most likely home night.

Oak Ridges Perfect Hosts
Oak Ridges Lions Club, doing a terrific job of sponsoring minor sports, took over the Aurora Arena Saturday night to stage their annual minor hockey night. A trio of games in pee-wee, bantam and midjet concluded the busy hockey program.

Nobleton, Aurora and Richvale teams were invited to provide the opposition for the Oak Ridges' young puck chasers. Oak Ridges teams played the perfect hosts, allowing their visiting opponents to pack away victories in all three contests.

In pee-wee Oak Ridges dropped a 2-0 decision to Nobleton. Larry Hill scored both Nobleton goals. Oak Ridges suffered a 3-0 setback at the hands of Bill Munnell's Aurora Cubs in bantam. Dave Pines, Ron Egan and Dan Patrick potted the Cub talles.

Oak Ridges midjets put up a game but losing scrap before conceding a 6-3 win to Richvale. Oak Ridges held tight to Richvale in the early scrimmaging but saw the invaders win via three late goals. Bob Woolley picked up two scoring credits, John Kerrington one for Oak Ridges. Don Willis two, Bill Robson, Ron Leunischer, Glen Turnbull and Dave Politt with one each were the Richvale goal scorers.

Sr. Ladies Organize
With daylight saving just over the horizon, the local softball pot has really begun to bubble. Latest team to get down to organizing for the coming softball battles is Newmarket senior ladies nine.

The met last week to name an executive. Busman Earby Ruthven was returned as president, Maude Rupke, vice-president, and Joyce Day secretary-treasurer. Charlie VanZant will again guide the team from the bench and it was the unanimous decision of the meeting to ask Frank "Pop" Courtney to again assume the management.

It was indicated that most of last year's players would be back and several new faces are likely to give the regulars a battle for starting assignments. Entry will again be made in the Barrie and District Ladies' Softball League and P.W.S.U. intermediate playdowns. A practice is scheduled for early next week and it is hoped that everybody interested in playing with the senior ladies' team will be on hand.

INTERESTED IN SOCCER?
Do we have any soccer (football) players in our midst? Are there enough to form a Newmarket team? That's a query that has been fired at the Era and Express Sports Department in the past week. If you're interested in playing soccer kindly leave your name at the Era and Express or with Jan Husak, Bob Middleton, Lorne Wasie or Geo. Haskett of Era and Express staff. If enough interest is shown a team can be formed and possibly as a starter, an East side vs West side game.

Stand back and give 'em air - or heir long wollies. Our town mushballers, gloves and all, are going to kick-off early this semester. Date to remember is May 7 - double-header no less, says Mickey Smith.

Hoffman and Sports-Cycle, and Thompson-Bell and Specialty should make a good opener. If the teams put as much zip into their ball duties as they did into discussing and discussing the rules Wednesday, what a year we're in for. Debaters were at it four hours - and what happened? So far as this paragrapher could see, ended up where it started with last year's rules in vogue.

Wisely or unwisely, we'll know soon, moguls decided to stick to the coffee pot to meet the bills. Naturally with lights, balls, gloves and equipment to purchase, they won't turn aside any proffered change. If that doesn't cover the expenses, have to consider a charge at the gate. As one worthy puts it "if a double-header isn't worth two hits, there's something rotten in you know where".

Here and there: Charlie VanZant is pondering quite a request this week. Win. Law, Barrie Sportsman, asks: "How about reviving the old York-Simcoe senior softball league?" How many fans remember? Rocky Aces, Barrie Stransmen, Churchill and Newmarket. It was quite a league. Newmarket Redmen under Chas. Holmes and Joe Spillet featured Murray Cock, Pee-Wee Hilton, Tink Trivet and Bob Peters around the infield stations. Outfielders Harvey Gibney, Speedy Giles (deceased) and your paragrapher - that's a long time ago - of course Big Boy Alex Webster was the pitching whiz and Peaches VanZant the receiver.

Aces, if we recall, went along with Gen Guilfoyle on the mound, Johnny Saso, Norm Hines, Red Stansmen on the roster. Anyhow, Win Law is on the jump to get it going again - this time via Barrie, Midland, Orillia, Camp Borden. It's not likely much can be done this year locally. The Barrie sportsman also files a request for a men's team and

Softball Opens May 7
The Newmarket Town Softball League open their season May 7 with a double-header attraction. At 7.15 p.m. Ray Smith's Sports-Cycle Shop meet Town-Hoffman while Thompson-Bells will match Office Specialty in the first under the lights attraction at 8.45 p.m. The league plans to run twin-bills each Monday and Wednesday from there on. Town League moguls convened Wednesday from there on. Town League moguls convened Wednesday and were assured of four teams, Thompson-Bells, Office Specialty, Sports-Cycle and a fourth team either from Hoffman or the town or a combined crew from the two.

The delegates waded into the rules for four hours and emerged from the worthy debate with last year's laws practically intact. Baseball players were given the green light to play in the Newmarket Softball League and players living within a three mile radius of Newmarket or working locally will be eligible, regardless of their other softball activities in other leagues.

Delegates voted for the time being to carry on with a silver collection rather than a charge at the gate. All games in the town league will be played at the Fair Grounds.

People And Taxes And Dogs In Aurora In The Year 1866: Resolve Built A Lions Hall

Historical documents concerned with the locality in which one was born, or comes to be associated with by residence, are always interesting. One such document was loaned to us by a good friend and old-time Aurora resident, and this was the "Collector's Roll for the town of Aurora" for the year 1866.

Actually Aurora was not a village, and was incorporated as such in 1863. It was 25 years later that it became the town of Aurora, on January 1, 1888.

Here are some interesting figures for the village of Aurora in the year 1866: To amount of tax on collector's roll, $1,271.67; amount collected, $1,247.19; young men's tax, $39; dog tax, $55.

There were 204 property owners in the village in the year 1866 and 31 young men subject to a poll tax of $2 per annum. Of the $1,271 due from the property owners only $34 remained outstanding. Of the 31 young men liable for tax, one discharged his debt by doing road work; one was "served"; another proved non-liability; five had left the village, and another was "away".

Famous Aurora Names

There are many famous Aurora names on the 1866 roll. There are the Andrews, Atkinson, Charles Doan and his son David, John Devlin (who was the 1866 collector), Fleury, Gurnett, Hilary, Petch, Lepper, Lundy, Macnell, Mosley, Ough, Stevenson, Wells, Willis, Walton, etc.

The most considerable property owner was Richard Macnell, whose assessment was $1,400 and whose tax bill for the year was $37.62. Next came Charles Doan (in a room of whose home we are now writing these notes) with a $1,000 assessment and a tax bill of $32.64. Charles Doan was postmaster at the time Aurora was known as Macnell's Corners; he was also the first reeve of the village; and it was he who changed the name of Macnell's Corners to Aurora.

If someone should suggest that property values and taxes have greatly changed since the time of the Doans and the Macnells, two things should be borne in mind: One that money values have changed, and, two, that there were no services such as their successors enjoy today.

Notable Dog Owners
It cost one dollar a year to keep a dog in Aurora in the year 1866 and there were 55 of them. Postmaster Doan did not keep a dog, but his rival in town affairs, Richard Macnell, had two of them. Ernest M. Peel, fore-runner of a notable Aurora family, kept four dogs. He was a substantial property owner and paid a tax of $22.08.

Matthew Lepper, another property owner of substance, after whom Lepper street was named, later changed to Millview Road, owned two dogs, as did John Mosley, founder of the Aurora Anglican church, and the Rev. James McCullum, rector of Trinity, George Rank, and James Yew. Wilfred Shriber of Wellington street owned three dogs.

The dogs and their owners have gone the way of all flesh; but the names of many of the latter survive in buildings and in street names, and for other outstanding reasons. It is an intriguing speculation if any of them envisaged such a community as we have today, with its 3,311 population and assessment of two and a half million dollars.

It could be that Charles Doan had vision of a greater Aurora, for he really was a man of wide culture and progressive ideas. It is said that he changed the name of Macnell's Corners to Aurora because of a personal feud between himself and the Macnells. But there could have been better reasons, for Aurora is a symbolic name derived from a Greek origin meaning "god-dess of dawn".

TURN-ABOUT-FACE!

Our readers know that we consistently upheld Mr. E. R. Good as a first-class assessor; but we did not suppose that confirmation of our opinion would finally come from the Aurora Banner. Commenting on the reduction of the mill rate for the current year, the "home-town paper" finds itself compelled to surrender its change-with-the-wind face to facts that cannot be gainsaid.

Reviewing the budget in its issue of last week the Banner says that the reduced mill rate resulted from "a greatly increased assessment rather than a decline in costs". In another part of the paper this admission is supported by a remarkable forecast of what would have happened had there been no increase of assessments. "Without the increase in assessment," confesses the Banner, "it is safe to conclude that taxes this year would have been around the 68 mill mark."

Now there is a turn-about face if there ever was one! It was only a few months ago, when the Court of Revision was hearing appeals from industries and a few individuals, that the Banner charged into Mr. Good with a blast of epithets, stating, among other things, that assessments had been handled about as badly as it was possible to handle them, and describing Mr. Good as "arrogant".

It is now forced to admit that Mr. Good's assessments have saved the taxpayers from a possible 68 mill rate, 11 mills more than the figure arrived at in the 1952 budget. The 1951 assessment was $2,119,730 as against the 1952 assessment of $2,521,233, a difference of over $400,000.

The Banner comic strip of Blondie and Donald Duck, etc., may possibly be accepted at its face-value; but the "opinions" of the "home-town paper" should be viewed with extreme caution. Plain facts, however, even it cannot distort, such as the lowered mill rate which has resulted from the work of a man it previously derided.

THAT BLANK CHEQUE!

Insofar as we were able we helped in the election to the town council of Mr. Ralph Tucker. He has shown ability and argumentative power during the few months he has represented the citizens. In council he speaks so that he can be heard and he does not bore his listeners with long-winded harangues.

But we cannot go along with him in support of a blank cheque for the planning board which he represents as a council member. As we have pointed out in another column, the planning board has already cost the taxpayers a lot of money and nobody can tell us what the planning board has done for Aurora?

Having already spent more than $5,000 the planning board asked for an additional $800. Councillor Tucker could not answer Councillor Murray's question on what the extra money would be spent. The explanation was that Councillor Tucker didn't know. And the board offered no explanations.

There will probably be more maps and plans and schemes and certainly a lot more talk. But will there be any tangible services rendered? Will Aurora be one whit better after the $800 is spent? Mr. Tucker told council that the board had no intention of spending "that much money". How does he know? And if he had such knowledge why did he support an unnecessary grant? Perhaps the board is going to invest the bulk of the money for the benefit of the town? Perhaps not. Time will tell.

Meanwhile, we don't think that Councillor Tucker will have increased his stature as a council representative in the minds of the electors by his support of a blank cheque for the planning board.

"EDITORIAL OPINIONS"

Unlike some people we know, we do read the Banner. The "home-town paper", that is. It runs a column which it calls "editorial opinion", which is a polypurri and not a caviare, and where you may find anything from a wisecrack that looks hollow to "chuckles" that sound hoarse.

Lately, however, the "home-town" column has taken a turn for the better by including some clippings from our own writings. Although we are receiving no remuneration for these reprints of our work, we derive considerable satisfaction from the knowledge that they are brightening up the contents of the "home-town paper".

So much indeed has the "home-town paper" become dependent on the "out-of-town paper" for clippings from it, or complimentary allusions to our work, that we shall feel reluctant to take a vacation in case of a breakdown in its operations.

We hope the "home-town paper" will continue freely to use our work, so long as it uses quotes correctly and acknowledges the source of its dependence, which it has not always done in the filling up of its editorial page. Assuming such honesty on its part, Banner readers will know whence come some grains of truth among such wastes of chaff, to paraphrase the words of Sir William Gilbert.

COUNCIL SIDELIGHTS

Reduced Mill Rate Explained Planning Board Blank Cheque Backed By Councillor Tucker

The outstanding event at the April 21 meeting of council was, of course, the presentation of the 1952 budget with its one mill rate reduction. In these days of record costs such a cut is something of a phenomenon and the chairman of the finance committee, Reeve Cook, must have felt a glow of satisfaction in announcing it.

As we interpolated in our council report of last week, the 1952 budget, having regard to prevailing circumstances, can be described as a "remarkable achievement." While other municipalities are increasing their mill rates, some by large additions, the town of Aurora enjoys a more happy experience.

At the end of the council meeting we took the opportunity of congratulating Reeve Cook on being able to present such a favorable budget and he replied modestly that "the boys had worked well together." While such an excellent sentiment deserves to go on the record, the tangible circumstances which enabled the production of so favorable a budget also call for recognition.

One item in it did arouse some discussion, and was in a sense a test of election promises, and we shall presently come to that.

Outcome of Assessments

How did this reduction in the mill rate come about? The answer is found substantially in the excellent assessing work of Mr. E. R. Good, and provides concrete proof of what we have previously written in his favor, that he was a first-class assessor whose services ought to have been retained for town, as they are being retained by a neighboring municipality for the sixth year in a row.

It will not be disputed that assessments constitute the basis of a progressive or a non-progressive community. Besides the statistical importance of fair and equal assessments, there are also the ethical and psychological considerations involved. For example: Fair and equal assessing produces a feeling of community satisfaction, to the extent that taxpayers have an assurance that everyone is getting a square deal. That is the psychological factor which produces a community uplift that inspires progress.

That is also the ethical factor, the knowledge that fairness and justice are being applied equally to all taxpayers; and where such knowledge prevails in any community, again the reward is satisfaction.

Town Expenses Increased

The 1951 mill rate was reduced from 58 to 57 in spite of the fact that the general town expenses were in some instances, as the budget breakdown shows, substantially increased.

The explanation for the mill rate reduction, as we have already pointed out, is to be found in a better level of assessments, excluding some of the major industries referred to in previous articles, which benefitted from landslide revisions, not only from the local revisory court but from the visiting judge to whom the appeals from the rulings of the revisory court were made.

Deputy-Reeve Murray's appeal that the mill rate be left the same as last year, for the reason that the money represented by one mill, about $2,500, could be used on streets and sidewalks, seemed to us out of order in view of the fact that the allocation of $18,000 which his committee had asked for had already been approved.

Vote of Confidence

The Recreation commission sent in a copy of a resolution passed by that body expressing complete confidence in the recreation director, Mr. P. E. Perryment, and this would have been accepted by council without any discussion had not Deputy-Reeve Murray felt himself impelled to throw in a blast of criticism which reflected on nobody but himself.

Councillor Jim Murray had previously expressed some views, as he was entitled to do on behalf of the electors who sent him to council, on the time spent by Mr. Perryment between the arena and recreation work. There was nothing personal at all in the councillor's questions and comments.

Deputy-Reeve Murray, quite ungraciously, we thought, seized this inappropriate occasion to take some "knocks" at his namesake who, he suggested, was doing harm to his native town. It is our candid opinion that Councillor Jim Murray is doing most useful work for the town by bringing important matters to the notice of the citizens. He is an able councillor who knows what he wants to say, and says it with admirable brevity, conciseness and clarity.

If Deputy-Reeve Murray could acquire for himself some of these qualifications he might play a more useful part on council than he is doing at present.

Planning Board's $800

It is apparent that the planning board cannot prosper unless it gets its annual package of financial candy. This year it didn't ask for so much candy: $800 instead of the $1,000 it received last year from the ratepayers.

This was the chief topic of discussion in the budget figures. Eight hundred dollars isn't a big sum to ask for, if you have a reasonable reason for spending it. But the planning board did not condescend to explain for what purpose, or purposes, it required the $800. It just asked for that sum and let it go at that.

And council agreed to let it go at that and passed up the $800 blank cheque. Not without some opposition, of course, but when the vote was taken there was a majority of one for the blank cheque.

A New Recruit

A new recruit to the planning board is Councillor Ralph Tucker. He represents council on the board. He couldn't tell council for what purpose, or purposes, the $800 was wanted. But he thought the planning board should get it. He made it a question of "confidence". Either council had confidence in the planning board or it hadn't, argued Mr. Tucker.

This "confidence" argument is becoming so ubiquitous that it is becoming a bore. It seems that merely to ask questions is to suggest lack of confidence in some cause or some person. Merely to criticize some proposal, however fantastic and ridiculous, is to invite the charge of "knocking the town."

We regret that we cannot commend Councillor Tucker's appeal for $800 of the taxpayers' money for a purpose, or purposes, which he could not define. Already the taxpayers have spent $5,138 on the planning board during the years 1948, 1949, 1950 and 1951. The board wouldn't be spending all the $800, said Mr. Tucker. Then why ask for it? Why come to council and ask for a sum of money and not be able to say on what it was to be spent, or that part of it which would be spent? The Opposition?

Councillor Jim Murray started to "knock the town" again by reminding council that most of the money already handed over to the planning board had gone to a consultant who lives out of town. He reminded council that the town solicitor (who lives in town) had been opposed to most of the proposals of the planning board. He mentioned the zoning by-law and heard the mayor say that it was "wholly impracticable."

It was so "impracticable" that after hours and hours of debate it was carried away and was deposited somewhere for a cleanup. It was the greatest assemblage of words without practical meaning that we have ever seen. Fifteen closely-typed pages of it, over which former Councillor Gundy struggled and sweated and the town solicitor labored in travail. Will some of the $800 be spent on a revision of its crazy setup? Who knows?

Councillor Jones, who is a council representative on the planning board, kept faith with his election promise that no more money was to be spent on the planning board. He voted against the $800 grant, as did Councillors Davis and Murray. Deputy-Reeve Murray and Councillors Corbett, King and Tucker voted for the grant. The planning board got its annual allowance of financial candy.

This is all cash business. Will the local business and professional people be left holding the CREDIT bag?

MORE LIKELIHOOD of beverage rooms later on—

Let us not be fooled! The establishment of a liquor store and brewers' warehouse is the thin edge of the wedge; the same interests would be back for the rest later on. Remember that in 1934 there were no beverage rooms in Ontario!

For 36 years, without liquor outlets, Aurora citizens have enjoyed WHOLESOME living conditions, GOOD business, and SOUND progress. WE believe a NO VOTE is in the best interests of our community.

RINK AFFAIRS

Arena Debates Confused By Intrusion Of Other Matters And Real Issues By-Passed

Very considerable public interest has been aroused in recent weeks in the Arena and its management as a result of articles published in Aurora News Page and subsequent statements made at council and at the Recreation Commission. It is understood that the chairman of the Arena board, Mr. F. R. Underhill, will present a report to council.

It is hoped that such a report will not only embrace concrete answers to criticisms but will also give a comprehensive overall picture of activities at the rink, which would include the present financial state of affairs, and that the report will be available to the press for publication. The real issues presented by Mr. T. F. Swindle in his articles in Aurora News Page, and subsequent statements by Councilors Corbett and Murray, have been confused by the introduction into the discussion of the arena manager and recreation director, Mr. P. E. Perryment.

It is necessary that it should be clearly stated that no one who has taken part in the discussions ever questioned the ability or suitability of the arena manager and recreation director for the jobs to which he was appointed. There was no good reason why Mr. Perryment's name should ever have been linked with criticisms that were directed to the arena board and not to an employee at the rink or the Recreation Commission. The inclusion of Mr. Perryment's name has in fact clouded the real issues under discussion.

What are the Issues?

The reference made to Mr. Perryment was purely incidental, arising out of the dividing up of the work he did for the arena and the Recreation Commission. That point was, however, cleared up and Mr. Perryment was given a vote of confidence.

The real issues are concerned with the arena board itself, as to whether or not it has done a good job. The chairman of the board thinks it has and that is very natural. But how does this personal opinion tally with statements of other members of the board, present and past?

It is not Aurora News Page which is on trial, but the old board. This paper, in the public interest, has published articles from Mr. T. F. Swindle which have never been disproved, and since he was a member of the arena board for two years his opinions cannot be discounted. He resigned from the board in protest against what he alleged to be its inactivity, a charge that has recently been made by Councillor Jim Murray.

Councillor Jim Murray has come in for a lot of criticism, verging on abuse, for the reason that he spoke his mind on the arena board, which he described as "inactive". Having regard to Mr. Swindle's charge that the members of the board were so inactive that often a quorum couldn't be made up, proved the board to be inactive.

Since Mr. Jim Murray was elected to council he has proved himself a very able representative of the citizens of Aurora. He is well read and well-informed on municipal matters. He is a student of municipal literature and knows a great deal about local government, much of it having been learned from his father and a great deal from his own efforts. Since he does not speak without knowing what it is he is going to say, and having thought out what he is going to say, he can say it clearly and to the point.

He was sent by council to represent his colleagues on the arena board and he has not pussyfooted around. He found the Arena board "inactive" and had the courage to say so. He found that the treasurer had made no entries in the books from July 1951 to February 1952, when Councillor Tucker took over from Mr. W. H. Stoddart, and in these circumstances described Mr. Tucker's chore as "a head-ache."

It appears that a few people, including the chairman of the board, would have been better pleased with Mr. Murray if he had kept his mouth shut. If he had he wouldn't have been giving good service to the ratepayers who elected him to council. That is not Mr. Murray's way. He is under no obligation to anyone but the ratepayers who elected him to office.

Councillor Cliff Corbett at one time was a council representative on the arena board. This is what he said, in part, at the last meeting of the Recreation Commission: "There was one thing I never did like about the Arena Commission and that was the fact that committees were never set up. . . . No member of the commission outside of Mr. Cousins, Mr. Underhill and Mr. Stoddart were ever asked to do anything." It is on record that on one occasion Mr. Corbett called a meeting over the head of the chairman because of the failure of the board to get together. Nothing to "Refute!"

At the Arena Board meeting held on April 14 no attempt was reported in rebuttal of Councillor Murray's charge that the books had not been attended for the period mentioned, which the Aurora Banner reported from the earlier council meeting in these words: "He (Councillor Murray) asserted that no entries had been made in them from

Social News

The 50-50 Club of the United church entertained the Langstaff club on Monday evening. The meeting began with the worship service and the male quartet sang two numbers which were very much enjoyed by the large attendance. The guest speaker was Mrs. Vranina who spoke on Czechoslovakia where her husband was held prisoner during the war, and her mother, Mrs. DuBach, showed costumes of the country. After playing a number of games, lunch was served.

AURORA ROTARY

The usual weekly meeting and lunch of the Aurora Rotary club took place on Monday, April 23, when members entertained their youthful guests from the minor hockey team. A fine photograph of the team appeared in last week's issue of the Era and Express, taken by Sports' editor, George Haskett.

Mr. C. Delahaye, former famous hockey player, gave an interesting talk for the juniors.

EXCELLENT HOLSTEIN

Francy Rag Apple Segis, bred and owned by Douglas Wellesley, King, is one of the few Holsteins in Canada granted the top rating of "excellent" for conformation. In addition she has proved her ability as a producer by having completed her ninth consecutive lactation on record of performance test with a total production of 140,654 lbs. milk containing 4662 lbs. fat. In recognition of her achievements, Mrs. Wellesley has been awarded a Blue Seal Certificate of Long-time Production by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada. All of Francy's records have been made on twice-a-day milking. Her highest individual yearly record was made as a seven-year-old when she produced 619 lbs. fat from 18,211 lbs. milk.

last July until Councillor Tucker started entries in February this year.

If, as appears, the then secretary-treasurer had not the time to give to arena accounts, it is not surprising that no report has been furnished to council of arena activities. It would appear further that this failure was more an occasion for an expression of regret by those responsible than the alternative chosen of brandishing charges of "unwarranted criticism."

This "unwarranted and unnecessary criticism" charge is reported to have been made by Mr. Les Steadman at the last meeting of the Recreation Commission when he said he was "disappointed in the Aurora News Page" in not refuting it.

Since we have heard no "unwarranted and unnecessary criticism" we could hardly refute it; and Mr. Steadman certainly did not illuminate us.

The most convincing steps the Arena Board could take would be to provide concrete answers to the statements made by Councilors Corbett and Murray. Neither of them can be charged with "knocking the town". Both are trying to improve it. The Murphys have been paying taxes to the town of Aurora for a joint period of 50 years. Councillor Corbett has served on council for many years and has rendered useful service to the town.

Kingcraft Workers Plan For June Sale

The final arrangements for the first sale of handicrafts, home baking, plants and Caledonia Market articles by Kingcrafts Guild on Wednesday, June 4, at Kingswood, the home of the president, Lady Flavell, con. 7, King township, were presented to the general meeting on April 23, at King City United church. All indications are that the affair will not only be lovely to see, but will also have a very practical appeal to all who purchase admission tickets in advance of the sale. These may now be procured from Mrs. A. E. Jarvis and Mrs. James Henry. A limited number are placed at Armstrong's in King City, Maple, Richmond Hill, Nobleton and Georgetown.

"Nothing but a cloudburst will postpone the event," declared Mrs. Geoffrey Beatty, sale convenor. If this should happen, it will take place the following day, June 5.

When the organization was formed 18 months ago, the motto was "best quality work" and the sale was planned with this in mind. Each booth will have personal appeal in quality and variety. All work will be labelled "Kingcrafts" and attractively packaged in cellophane.

June 4 will be an excellent time to select plants for the flower garden. The garden cart and booth will offer a fine assortment of seedling plants, herbs and rockery plants. Mrs. Ernest Rolph, the convenor, has devoted much time in organizing this section. There will be 300 small painted boxes and 75 brightly painted flower pots holding the plants. There will be zinnias, marigolds, stocks, asters, grown from special seeds imported from England and the U.S. Other collections are 12 varieties of petunias, cleome, lilies of the valley, forget-me-nots, African violet, shasta daisies, chrysanthemums, and others. Driftwood flower arrangements made by Mrs. Gordon McEachern of Woodbridge will be on sale.

At the Caledonia Market booth will be found a treasure trove of lovely old china, jewelry and many other interesting things. Mrs. James Baxter, convenor, Mrs. E. Ryerson and Mrs. Eric Johnston will be in charge of this booth. Those who have not turned in their articles to Mrs. Baxter may leave them at Mrs. Frank Armstrong's in the village.

Mrs. Luffus Jewitt, home cooking convenor, will have her booth. All food for sale will be attractively arranged, boxed and ready to carry away — cakes, pies, cookies, homemade bread and rolls, candy, small jars of fruits and jams. Mrs. Jewitt would like all home baking in the booth by 1.30 on the afternoon of the sale.

The weavers' booth, conducted by Miss Evelyn Courtney and Mrs. C. F. Johnston, will have many beautiful pieces of craft. In addition, there will be demonstrations of spinning and weaving. The ruggers will have hand hooked rugs and other items of interest. They will be convened by Mrs. J. P. Norris.

The smocking groups of King and Lasky will offer a wide assortment of children's dresses and nylon blouses. Mrs. Whatle Finch and Mrs. Nelson Thompson are in charge of the booth.

The Teencrafters who work on metals and wood will sell hand-made copper bracelets, earrings and buttons; handpainted serving tables with designs, painted metal scoops and candle holders. Chiefly high school girls, they have worked diligently to learn these crafts. Mrs. Ivan Specht and Mrs. J. L. Grew are convening arrangements and the president, Suzanne Grew, is booth chairman.

The admission ticket includes afternoon tea, convened by Mrs. H. G. Ratcliffe and Mrs. Ivan Specht. A bevy of young women will assist and King City Bakery will cater.

Mrs. H. W. Weiss is arranging the decorative scheme of the sale.

The sale of draw tickets is very important, Lady Flavell stated, urging continued effort of this project. Mrs. Bob Benson will convene this department on the day of the fair. One of the draw prizes is a handsome quilt in red and white point-to-point design, comprising 1,200 pieces. Mrs. Harry Edwards chose the pattern and colors and has done the piecing. The ladies require two good quilters to help them complete the quilt. The quilt, the hooked nylon rug, smocked blouse, hand-loomed bag, leather purse and child's smocked dress will be drawn for on the grounds about 4 p.m.

New associate members of Kingcrafts are Mrs. G. Grierson of Maple, Mrs. P. Ketchum of Aurora, Mrs. W. Breitaupt of Toronto. The names of new active members are Mrs. W. G. Grant, King City, Mrs. Harold Gilday, con. 7, and Mrs. W. Mulock, Jr., Aurora.

The following announcements are pertinent to Kingcrafts: All handicraft work must be in the hands of group convenors by May 20, wrapped in cellophane bags and labelled "Kingcrafts". Convenors will bring this work to a convenors' meeting at Kingswood on May 21.

A group of experienced women who have had their own handicraft shops will set the final price on all work. They are Mrs. Moyer of Kirkcraigs, Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. John Aird.

Mrs. A. E. Jarvis would like what proceeds have been collected from the sale of admission tickets handed to her by May 20, for her report on May 21.

NEWTON — CROOK

At the rectory of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church, Schomberg, on Tuesday, April 22, Helen Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crook, King Ridge, became the bride of Melbourn Newton, a Korean veteran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newton of Aurora. Rev. Father Francis McGoey performed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in a brown gabardine suit, beige straw hat with brown trim and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Harold Wood of Snowball was her sister's attendant, wearing gray gabardine suit, pink straw hat, black accessories and corsage of pink roses. Robert Crook, Jr., was the groomsmen, taking the place of his brother William, a soldier with the army in Korea whom it was thought would be home in time for the wedding of his sister.

After the ceremony, the bride's mother gave a wedding supper at her home, where the groom's parents and the bride's sister, Mrs. James Sartorelli, and husband of Toronto were guests.

The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and are making their home in Aurora.

Before her marriage the bride was honored with two showers, one at the home of her friend, Miss Shirley Patrick of Snowball, and the other at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crook, when the King Ridge community joined to wish her happiness. She received numerous lovely gifts on both occasions. One of these was a table lamp, the gift of fellow employees at Universal Insulation plant at Aurora.

GREEN—MITCHELL

Saturday, April 12, was the scene of a quiet wedding when Audrey Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, was united in marriage to Mr. David Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Green, Mount Albert. Rev. Alken of Trinity United church officiated. The bride wore powder blue with navy accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses, and her attendant, Mrs. Gerald Code, wore mauve with grey accessories carrying yellow roses. Mr. Gerald Code was best man. The happy couple left for a trip to eastern points. They will reside in Newmarket.

A "Buy and Sell" sale will be held at the May meeting with each member bringing an item to the meeting which can be sold to another member. The auxiliary will receive the proceeds as a means of raising the group's allocation. At the close of the business session refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Frank Carley and Mrs. Ernest Hill.

Hidden Well Discovered

While playing on the lawn at the rear of the Bank of Commerce, Rodney Bell, 8, broke through soft ground up to his knees. He scrambled to his feet without difficulty but the incident led to the discovery of a dug well holding six to eight feet of water. It has probably been there for 50 years and was covered over with railroad ties on top of which was a thick coating of earth and grass. Rodney had gone through a rotten plank at the side of the well.

It has been noticed that this part of the lawn would heave in the spring but that was attributed to frost leaving the ground. Mr. Bert Kelley recalls when he was a small boy, there had been a pump at this spot. Where Mr. M. H. Bell's garage now stands there was a stable, likely used by Dr. Burns, a veterinarian, who kept his horses there. The water has remained in the well which is brick clad and one would suppose it is spring fed. The top was sealed over with ties and sod with the exception of the plank covered edge which finally gave out.
